CHINESE FORCES ARE EXTREMELY ACTIVE IN THE

EASTERN SECTION OF THE LUNGHAI RAILWAY FRONT

USE GRENADES WITH DEADLY EFFECT IN ATTACK ON LIPATSI STATION

Japanese Forced To Retire Towards River

Hankow, June 22.

ALTHOUGH MAJOR WARFARE ON THE LUNGHAI FRONT is being held up by the floods, the Chinese are extremely active on the eastern section of the Lunghai Railway attacking the Japanese aerodrome at Kwei sh on the night of June 20 and withdrawing after a two-hour engagement with the Japanese there, according to a Chinese military communique. The railway to the east of Liubo is said to have been systematically damaged by Chinese mobile units.

On the night of June 20 another Chinese column attacked the Lipatsi railway station to the west of Mingchuan. The Chinese are said to have occupied the station.

Using hand-grenades with deadly effect, the Chinese inflicted heavy casualties on the Japanese defending the station.

The Chinese troops withdrew at dawn yesterday. On the Yangtse front fighting is continuing at Tikung village, about thirty miles to the south-west of Wuhu.

Chinese troops last night launched an attack on Japanese positions in the hills around Tikung forcing the Japanese to retire towards the river. Receiving reinforcements at dawn today, the Japanese counter-attacked and as a result Chinese and Japanese forces are now facing one another from their original positions. (Reuter).

Swatow In State Of Apprehension

Japanese Raiders Drop Thousands Of Pamphlets

Swatow, June 22.

Since 7 o'clock this morning Swatow has been in a state of apprehension as the air raid alarm has been on throughout the day while Japanese planes reconnoitred continuously over Swatow, dropping bombs on three occasions.

At 4 o'clock four seaplanes dropped eight bombs, demolishing the power station as the result of which the city is at present without lights. The railway station, track and fort were hit but casualties were slight.

Thousands of pamphlets, stressing the happiness of northern China under Japanese rule and stating that continued southern resistance would occasion intensified Japanese naval and aerial operations, were dropped by the raiders.

Namoa has been occupied and it is presumed that the place is required by the Japanese as a base of operations in Kwangtung. (Reuter).

Central News reports that in the small hours of yesterday morning, following a gallant stand made by the defence forces against

A British steamer was sunk when an insurgent plane attacked it whilst anchored three miles off the shores of Valencia.

Barcelona was raided by insurgent planes today. (Reuter Bulletin).

Transocean gives the name of the ship as Gloxinia.

The Greek steamer Sunion is reported to have been bombed shortly afterwards and to have caught fire and sunk.

CHINESE ATTACK LINFIN

Kianghsien, Shansi, June 22.

Launching a concerted vigorous attack on Linfin, Chinese forces in two columns succeeded in breaking through the Japanese line of defence and occupied the aerodrome on the night of June 19, according to a belated message reaching here today.

During the encounter which took place in the airfield, it is stated the Chinese forces slew several hundred Japanese soldiers and captured three machine-guns.

A number of blockhouses on the northern and southern outskirts of Linfin, the report says, were besieged by the Chinese troops. (Central News).

Powers May Press For Opening Of Yangtse

Shanghai, June 22.

Admiral H.E. Yarnell, Commander-in-Chief of the U.S. Asiatic Fleet, is leaving Shanghai on Thursday morning on board the U.S.S. Isabel for a trip up the Yangtse.

The trip is similar to that recently made by the British Commander-in-Chief, Vice-Admiral Sir Percy Noble, namely, to see at first hand actual conditions on the Yangtse in the light of the Japanese contention that the Yangtse must be kept closed to foreign shipping for military reasons.

Should Admiral Yarnell's conclusions concur with Admiral Noble's, namely, that the Japanese contentions does not justify the continued closing of the Yangtse, it is understood that Washington and London are likely to concur with the view of taking joint steps to press for the opening of the Yangtse.

Admiral Yarnell is proceeding to Nanking and Wuhu and expects to complete the trip in one week. (Reuter).

CONTRADICTIONS IN MURDER HEARING

Detailed Cross-Examination By Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada

A.B. HUMPHREYS WAS DESERTER AT TIME OF SHOOTING

Exhaustive and searching cross-examination of Able Seaman John Humphreys, one of the principal witnesses for the Crown, and the man who figured in the incident which, the Crown alleges, provoked the feud that culminated in the murder of Leading Seaman Robert Dickinson, by the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada, a Castro Jr., defence Counsel, featured the second day of the trial of A.B. Edwin Moreland, Dwyer at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

In the course of this cross-examination, Humphreys admitted that he had only heard about the shooting two days after it happened as he was in the cells for desertion at Sydney. Mr. D'Almada showed also that Humphreys contradicted himself on several important points regarding the happenings in the boys' locker, and just prior to that, on the night when, according to him, he had seen Dickinson "interfering" with Dwyer. Mr. D'Almada thereupon put it to him that his evidence was entirely untrue. This Humphreys denied.

Another witness, Able Seaman Wood, said, also in answer to cross-examination, that he himself disliked Dickinson, as also did other people. (Other witnesses for the Crown had all testified that the dead man was popular).

This case, in which considerable public attention has been evinced, is being taken by the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, with the following Special Jury: Messrs. H. H. Priestley (Foreman), A. M. L. Soares, D. W. Munton, J. M. Noronha, I. W. Shewan, Chau Shui-ng, and Li Tse-fong.

The Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada, a Castro Jr., instructed by Mr. G. S. Hugh-Jones, of Messrs. Wilkinsons and Grist, is defending.

Mr. E. Davidson is watching on behalf of the Admiralty.

Cross-examination of Humphreys is given in detail on Page 7. As for some reason, he was unable to speak in a consistently loud enough tone for the jury to hear him, Humphreys was instructed to take his stand beside the usher's desk. This, unfortunately, rendered it sometimes very difficult to hear him from the Press Bench. (Continued on Page 7)

FOOT ITCH

Athlete's Foot

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

BEWARE OF IT SPREADING

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crotch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

HERE'S HOW TO TREAT IT

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to kill the germ, so you can see why ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. is developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

ITCHING STOPS IMMEDIATELY

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

MAGISTRATE AND HAWKERS

Mr. Butters Replies To Criticisms

Mr. H. R. Butters, Senior Magistrate, made further comments on the hawk problem in the open Court yesterday morning, in reply to the criticisms made by the Chairman of the Urban Council.

"As I conceive it, there are two points on the subject of hawkers with regard to which the chairman of the Urban Council has now made a set speech in which he charged me with aggravating the problem and discouraging the police in the performance of their duties. Owing to that I feel constrained to make a few further remarks.

"As I conceded, there are two aspects of the problem. The first is the policy of discouraging if not the suppression of unlicensed hawkers, and from my experience in court I consider that the problem has been aggravated by the number of refugees in the Colony. I understand competition has been so great that even licensed hawkers have been unable in certain cases to collect the four dollars with which to renew their licences.

POLICY OF FORCE

"The policy appears to be 'force' as represented by fine and confiscation. The chairman of the Urban Council stresses the difficulty in the market areas. In the case of hawkers around the markets they are generally hawking a few vegetables, and their whole stock in trade is not worth more than ten or twenty cents.

"I do not think confiscation of these few vegetables or confiscation and reconsecration will solve this problem.

"This morning there are 50 hawkers before the Big Court, the Small Court and the Juvenile Court, and of these fifty-six, forty-eight are out on bail.

"In the Large Court and Juvenile Court at any rate few if any of these attempt to answer the charge. When a hawk goes on bail he takes away his stock in trade with him and there is no power of confiscation. Of the 56 hawkers only eight are in the dock. The remaining 48 are presumably busily pursuing their avocation of hawking while the Court esteems their bail.

NO ADVANTAGE

"I consider this is a mockery of the process of the court. In this Magistracy alone there has been, up to date, between 8,000 and 9,000 hawkers cases this year and even if the daily average was doubled I do not think there is any advantage to be gained.

"In the cholera cases referred to by the chairman of the Urban Council I imposed the comparatively large fines of $2 and $3 during the first days of the regulations with a threat of increasing fines still further if necessary. This I found adequate and during the first day or two there has been absolutely no breach of the emergency regulations before me in court.

"In any case, the number was limited and I cannot deal with unlicensed hawkers generally in the same way unless I were going to fill Stanley Gaol several times over.

POOR HAWKERS

"The second aspect of the problem is that I conceive the grant of licences to the ill and infirm who had roots in the Colony, in the nature of poor relief.

"At the present moment there are more than $3,000 in the Poor Box and I understand from the police that after April 1, six months after the present licensing year began, no renewals were allowed and few, if any, new licences issued.

"That the picture of the widow with the borrowed children induced a sentimental magistrate to recommend her on the spot for a licence, was not in accordance with the facts, as I know of them in court.

DESERVING CASES

"But only deserving cases after investigation by the police were recommended. In view of what I understand to be the policy of the Urban Council I have made very few recommendations myself. The only recent recommendations I have made was the other day in the case of a coolie who, while engaged in his work, was injured in the leg in a traffic accident, through no fault of his own. He was certified by a Government doctor to be incapable of resuming his work, or do any form of hard work, and I recommended him as a deserving case for a licence.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ALICE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Fund For New Building Is Nearing Goal Chairman's Tribute To Staff

Presiding at the annual meeting of the Alice Memorial and Affiliated Hospitals held yesterday, Mr. S. W. Ts'o, C.B.E., LL.D., referring to the fund for the newly completed Nethersole Hospital building, said that he was glad to state that they were nearing the goal of getting the full amount of $50,000 and should be able to free the hospital building from debt very soon.

"Although there has been a deficit in the year's work," said the Chairman, "financially the year has shown a slight improvement over 1936."

The Chairman also paid warm tribute to the doctors, matron and nurses for their work.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

In proposing the adoption of the report and accounts, the Chairman said:—

The chief interest in the report is centred on the completion of the new Nethersole Hospital Building which was completed at the end of last year and was opened by His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, on January 7 this year.

The early completion of the building was urgently needed. If you will turn to page 14 of the report, you will find from the Statistical Abstract for 1937 that the number of in-patients in the year 1933 was 2,231, and in the year 1934, when the old hospital building was pulled down, it was reduced to 1,613. Many cases had to be turned away on account of lack of accommodation.

In spite of the difficulties of reduced accommodation, and the inconveniences caused by the building operations, it has been found possible to maintain quite a large amount of medical work throughout the year under review. The number of in-patients admitted during the year was 1,876 as compared with 1,911 during 1936, while the number of new out-patient cases was 11,364 as compared with 10,021.

STAFF THANKED

Under such trying conditions, the whole staff had to work very hard in order to maintain the medical work so successfully as it did, and I feel I am expressing the wishes of you all here present when I tender to the Doctors, the Matrons and the Nurses the hearty thanks of our Committee.

The next point I should like to touch upon is the Building Fund. At the end of 1934, the Fund stood at about $100,000, while the cost for the building needed $200,000. In 1935, the Government came to our help by granting us a dollar for dollar grant up to $50,000 for every dollar we collected in donations after the $100,000 we had in.

NATHAN ROAD SNATCHING

Swatow Chinese Goes To Gaol

Mrs. J. Wagner, appeared as complainant at the Kowloon Court yesterday when Hung Kam-luk, a native of Swatow was charged before Mr. Barnett with larceny of a leather handbag valued, together with its contents at $73.60.

Defendant came up from behind when Mrs. Wagner was walking along Nathan Road on June 21 at about 8 p.m., and snatched her bag, running away along Nathan Road. A bystander, Fung Huen, gave chase and caught the defendant. The bag was recovered with its contents intact, the snatcher dropping it on the pavement.

Mrs. Wagner claims that this is the third time she has had her handbag snatched. Sentence of three months imprisonment with hard labour was passed on defendant, who will also be sent away to Swatow on expiration of the prison term.

"The chairman of the Urban Council had replied that any excuse was good enough for an application for a hawk's licence, and he stated that it was cases like this that cluttered up the streets of the Colony and recommended that he return to the country. I understand the applicant in this case was Hong Kong-born."

hand. From 1935 to the end of 1937, we collected $33,000, and a similar sum was paid out of the grant by the Government to us.

At the opening of the new building, His Excellency the Governor generously offered to pay to our Committee the balance of the grant provided we will furnish the Government with a guarantee to collect the whole sum of $50,000 within a certain period.

This guarantee has been given by the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau and myself, and the balance of the grant $17,000 has now been paid by the Government.

I take this opportunity of expressing our hearty and grateful thanks to His Excellency the Governor and the Hong Kong Government for their generosity in meeting our difficulties.

DONATIONS

With regard to the balance of donations required to complete the $50,000 under the guarantee, I would call your attention to the report in which you will find that the donations received from January to April, 1938, amounted to $12,751.02. To this sum must be added the sum of $3,025, being donations received in May from:

The Bank of China, $2,000; The Hong Kong Jockey Club, $500; The Hong Kong Tramway Co., $200; The Hong Kong Electric Co., $100; The Star Ferry Co., $100; Mr. Fung Fook Tien, $100; The Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall, $25. Total: $3,025.

A am glad to say that we are nearing the goal of getting the full amount of $50,000 and shall be able to free the hospital building from debt soon.

Although there has been a deficit in the year's working, financially the year has shown a slight improvement over 1936. There was, however, a disappointing drop in the annual donations received of nearly $2,000. But in spite of this, the deficit for the year was only $4,824.28 as compared with $5,810.81 in 1936. It is earnestly hoped that with the revival of interest following the opening of the New Nethersole Hospital, our annual donations will once more return to their former level.

It now remains for me to thank on behalf of our Committee all those ladies and gentlemen whose names are mentioned in the report for the splendid assistance they have given us during the year.

Present at the meeting were:—Mr. S. W. Ts'o (Chairman), Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall, Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, Hon. Sir N. Chau, Rev. H. R. Wells, Rev. Frank Short, Messrs. Tang Shu-kin, A. G. W. VARIOUS WAYS OF USING TOMATOES

A tomato in any guise, can be eaten and relished by everyone. Salads, on toast, as a breakfast dish, accompanying the dinner grill, pickles, jam and cocktail. Tomatoes have a place in every meal of the day.

TOMATO SALAD

Fresh lettuce leaves, medium sized tomatoes, dates, butter, salt, mustard and pepper.

Take one tomato for each person, plunge into boiling water and remove skin. Chill, then cut into quarters nearly to the stalk end so that they fall slightly open. Grate cheese and mash with butter, pepper and salt and mustard with a fork. Stir in a few chopped dates. Stuff tomatoes with the mixture and stud with dates. Place on fresh lettuce leaves.

STUFFED TOMATOES

Take 8 firm tomatoes, 1 cupful of breadcrumbs, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoonsful of butter, 2 egg yolks, salt and pepper to taste.

First wash and dry the tomatoes. Cut off the tops and remove pulp with a small spoon. Rub through a fine sieve. Put butter in a saucepan, then add onion, half the breadcrumbs, the tomato pulp and the seasonings. Cook for a few minutes. Stir in the egg yolks and fill tomato shells with the mixture. Sprinkle tops with the remainder of the breadcrumbs. Dab with butter and place in a fairly hot oven, and bake for about 20 minutes. Serve hot.

TWO SAVORIES

Choose egg tomatoes, dip in boiling water and skin. Cut off the tops, scoop out centres, sprinkle with salt, and invert to drain. Make a mixture of mashed anchovies, tomato pulp, pepper and lemon juice. Then stuff tomatoes and place a slice of stuffed olive on top.

Take egg tomatoes, plunge in hot water and skin. Then halve lengthwise, and fill with the following mixture: 1 ounce cream cheese, 1 sardine skinned and boned, hard boiled egg yolk, celery salt, moisten with a dash of Tabasco, Worcester sauce, cayenne and salad dressing. Place on ice until ready to serve.

TOMATO JAM

Take 8 lb. firm ripe tomatoes, 6 lemons, 7 lb. sugar.

Plunge tomatoes in boiling water and skin, then cut fruit into slices and place in preserving pan. Peel the lemons as thinly as possible and cut the peel into shreds. Squeeze the juice and add with the sugar, to the tomatoes. Boil all together until sufficiently thick, about 3 to 4 hours. Test on a saucer.

TOMATO COCKTAIL

One tin tomato juice, 1 teaspoonful lemon juice, 1 teaspoonful Worcester sauce, pinch salt. Mix all well together, chill and add chopped ice before serving in cocktail glasses.

TOMATO CHUTNEY

Three lb. tomatoes, 1 lb. onions, 1 lb. ginger, 1 pint vinegar, 3 lb. sugar, 2 apples, 1 tablespoon salt, garlic, 2 oz. sultanas.

Remove the skin from apples, onions and tomatoes and cut into slices. Put into a preserving pan with all the other ingredients. Boil for 1 hour, stirring well. Bottle and seal down.

GREEN PICKLES

Seven lb. green tomatoes, 6 large onions, 1 cup of salt, 2 quarts vinegar, 1 lb. sugar, 2 tablespoons of curry powder, 2 teaspoons turmeric, cloves, mustard, allspice.

Slice tomatoes and onions and sprinkle salt over, and leave all night. Next day drain well, and add other ingredients. Simmer for 4 hours, stirring well. Bottle at once and seal.

TOMATO FRITTERS

Cut some firm tomatoes into thick slices, season with pepper and salt. Spread with a potted meat paste and put two slices together as a sandwich. Dip into a fritter batter and wet fry a golden brown. Garnish with parsley.

COOKING EGGS

Eggs should be cooked at a low temperature, as extreme heat toughens the whites and causes them to be rubbery. Using one and a half cups of water to each egg, heat the water to boiling point, put the eggs in the water, and put the pan in a warm place where the temperature falls slowly. Ten minutes will give a soft-cooked egg. Twenty minutes will give a medium-hard egg. Forty-five minutes will make the egg firm, but not tough.

NEW DRINKS FOR HOT DAYS

Here are recipes for cooling drinks that will be appreciated in sickness and health.

The first recipe, introducing black currant jelly, is especially soothing for a dry, hoarse throat. Black currant jam may be substituted, but it will be necessary to strain it after beating.

BLACK CURRANT FIZZ

One pound black currant jelly preserve, one pint boiling water, 2 1/2 cups orange juice, two-third cup lemon juice, two bottles (one quart) ginger ale.

Beat the jelly until frothy. Add the boiling water and continue beating until the jelly is dissolved. Then add the fruit juices and stir well. Chill and just before serving add the ginger ale. Makes nine cupfuls.

FROZEN LEMONADE SYRUP

One and a half cups lemon juice, one cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cups cold water, 4 cups ice water, ice.

Combine the lemon juice, sugar and cold water and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Turn into the tray of an automatic refrigerator and freeze until mush-like in consistency. Then remove from the tray, add the ice water and stir well.

The lemonade is then ready to serve with the addition of ice and any garnish desired. This suggests a quick and convenient way of preparing summer lemonade ahead of time. Makes seven cupfuls of lemonade.

ICED MOCHA

Two ounces unsweetened chocolate two cups cold water, 1 pinch salt, four tablespoons granulated sugar, 2 cups milk, one and one-third cups black coffee, half cup cream, half teaspoon vanilla extract.

Combine the chocolate, water, salt, three tablespoons of the sugar and the milk in the top of a double-boiler, and cook while beating with an egg beater until the chocolate is melted and the mixture is smooth. Then remove, add the coffee, blend well and chill.

Serve topped with the cream, which has been whipped stiff with one tablespoon of the sugar and combined with the vanilla. Makes six cupfuls.

GINGER SANDWICH

Sift eight ounces of self-raising flour into a bowl with a pinch of salt. Rub in four ounces of butter, or butter and margarine, add two ounces of sugar, and make into a stiff paste with a beaten egg, adding a little milk if necessary. Divide into two pieces and roll out rather thinly into squares. Slice some stem ginger and cover one piece of pastry with it. Moisten with a little of the syrup. Put on the other piece of pastry, squeezing the edges together. Put on a greased tin and bake in a fairly hot oven for about twenty minutes. Leave to cool, then cut into pieces. Sift a little caster sugar over the top.

PIN WHEEL BISCUITS

2 cups bread flour
4 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. salt
3 tbsp. sugar
4 tbsp. cold fat
1 cup Carnation Milk
1 cup water
1 cup chopped raisins
2 tsp. chopped citron
1 tsp. cinnamon
2 tsp. sugar

Sift the first four ingredients, rub or cut in the shortening. Add Carnation diluted with the water and mix to soft dough. Toss on slightly floured board, pat or roll to 1/4 inch thickness, sprinkle with raisins, citron, cinnamon, and sugar. Roll like a jelly roll. Cut off pieces 1/2 inch in thickness and place on a greased tin. Bake in a hot oven (450°F) for 10 to 15 minutes.

SCONES

2 cups pastry flour
4 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
4 tbsp. fat
2 eggs
3 tbsp. Carnation Milk
3 tsp. water

Sift dry ingredients, rub or cut in fat. Dilute Carnation with water; add milk with beaten eggs (reserving a little of the egg white); mix to soft dough. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness, cut into squares or diamond shapes. Brush over with a little of the reserved egg white and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a hot (450°F) oven.

GOOD TO EAT

What do you know about tomatoes?

If you have never served them with shrimps you have missed a treat.

Try them this way for supper.

SHRIMP SALAD

Shrimps or prawns can be used for this tasty salad. Arrange a cupful of green peas on a bed of shredded lettuce, then add the picked shrimps and a ring of thinly sliced tomatoes and cold potato. Garnish with rings of tomato, hard boiled egg, and watercress.

SAVOURY MIXTURE

Chop two tomatoes, a few chives, a small piece of cucumber and a little grated cheese. Moisten with mayonnaise, season with salt, pepper and a little chopped parsley. Spread on thin bread and butter and form into a sandwich.

WITH CREAM CHEESE

Tomato and cream cheese makes a delightful picnic filling. Spread a thin layer of cream cheese on the buttered bread, then a layer of thinly sliced tomato, season and form into a sandwich, or spread on halved buttered bridge rolls.

TOMATO SOUP

Tomato soup is a favourite. Put 1 lb. tomatoes, 2oz. lean ham, 2 carrots, 2 onions, a little celery and pinch of salt into 1 1/2 pints stock. Simmer for one hour. Strain off the liquor, thicken it with sweetened cornflour mixed with a little milk.

COOKERY HINTS

Orange juice should always be freshly prepared; a squeeze of lemon-juice added increases its efficacy.

Brussels sprouts, if drained when partly boiled, then laid in a stewpan with several little dabs of butter and a sprinkling of salt and pepper, then stewed until quite tender through, are very much nicer than when plainly boiled.

Jam ferments rapidly if kept in a damp larder. A 2lb. jar of lime placed on the floor under the shelves will quickly absorb dampness.

When grilling steak, sprinkle it lightly with brown sugar and salt, which has been mixed in equal proportions. Do this when the steak is partly done. The mixture must not be used on a raw surface.

CHELTENHAM COLLEGE CENTENARY

Mr. Hore Belisha Lays Foundation Stone

Mr. Hore Belisha, the Secretary of State for War, lay the foundation stone of a new block of class rooms at Cheltenham College on May 11.

The new building is a gift of the Cheltenham Society to mark the centenary of the School which falls in 1941, when there will be an official dedication ceremony.

The Society is also presenting the School with a gymnasium and cricket pavilion for which funds are being raised by old Cheltonians all over the world. The latter is to be erected nearer the centenary date.

Plans for both premises have already been prepared by Mr. Oswald P. Milne, F.R.I.B.A.

IN COTSWOLD STONE The new class rooms stand near the present buildings and will be erected in Cotswold stone to harmonise with the main school.

The existing gymnasium and one of the racquet courts are to be reconditioned, while the second racquet court is to be formed into a gymnasium for fencing, boxing and physical training.

The towers containing the staircase are to be rebuilt while new wings in front of the old building will contain changing rooms, baths, and a room for old Cheltonians.

The whole of the building is to be finished with rough plaster with stone dressings.

Cheltenham College is the oldest of the Victorian Schools and its establishment was the sign for the foundation of many more of the same pattern.

DISTINGUISHED MEN The Jubilee in 1891 was marked by the erection of the present chapel and the conversion of the chapel into a library.

Many distinguished public men have been educated at Cheltenham including Lord Lee of Fareham, Sir Walter Lawrence, Sir Montagu Ommamney, Sir Charles Elliot, Lord Melchett, Sir Robert Mond, Lord Thomson of Cardington, former Secretary of State for Air, and Mr. Campbell Taylor, R.A.

Six Feared Dead In R.A.F. Crash

Singapore, June 22.

It is feared that the crews, which number six, are all dead.—(Reuter).

PERSONALITIES AT THE MACAO RACES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Macao society leaders were mostly absent from Sunday's race meeting at Areia Preta, Hong Kong residents making up the major number of foreign track-goers. Perhaps it was the blazing sun and torrid heat which kept them away from the Sport of Kings, for, as Noel Coward wrote, "mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the mid-day sun." However, there were a few local residents to keep the Colony flag flying, even among the punters.

Early arrivals in the Club enclosure included "Waterworks" Mr. was Mrs. Leong Hau-un, who was H. S. C. McComb, Pan-Air's Mr. accompanied by a party of lady J. S. Johnson and Customs' Mr. friends. The group kept well in Mr. W. H. P. Weston. The trio were at hand for the first saddling and gracefully acknowledged the bell. Meanwhile, Mr. Jack Braga was seen merrily chatting away with some of the owners and jockeys in the paddocks.

The Club chairman, Mr. F. J. Gellion, was also among the early buyers at the Sweeps counter Mrs. Gellion, in her usual merry mood, stayed with Hong Kong friends in the grandstand.

Lt. J. Montalvo e Silva, of the Macao Police, stood in the main stands watching the punters with a few friends, with whom he was in deep conversation.

Among the ladies early to arrive was Mrs. Leong Hau-un, who was H. S. C. McComb, Pan-Air's Mr. accompanied by a party of lady J. S. Johnson and Customs' Mr. friends. The group kept well in Mr. W. H. P. Weston. The trio were at hand for the first saddling and gracefully acknowledged the bell. Meanwhile, Mr. Jack Braga was seen merrily chatting away with some of the owners and jockeys in the paddocks.

The programme was well begun when other local personalities also began to arrive, among them Messrs. Pla and Elzaga, Philip plines investment agents.

Pan-American's Mr. C. Barnes and Mrs. Barnes were showing the local racing ropes to Mr. Palmer Miller, Hollywood cameraman, who is in Macao shooting scenes for a coloured travelogue of the Portuguese Colony. Mr. Miller seemed to find a new colourful angle for his film, but unfortunately he did not have his camera along with him.

VOLTAIRE'S ACCIDENT

Towards the end of the third race Mrs. McComb and Mrs. Johnson arrived to join their husbands who, like every other racegoer, were wholly sympathetic over the accident which befell Voltaire.

Also among the spectators was the Colonial Secretary, Dr. Carlos Sampaio. Elsewhere, Lt. Preta, of the N.R.P. Goncalo Velho, conversed with Miss Simoes and Miss Spencer.

Still later to arrive were Mr. and Mrs. Danilo Barréiros and some friends, the party soon joining the race spectators.

Mr. F. Noronha, of the Manufacturers' Insurance, was among the more fortunate punters at the meeting.

COLOUR FILMS OF CLIPPER TRIPS

HONG KONG SCENES WILL BE INCLUDED

Pan-American Airways, working in co-operation with Paramount Films, are making a six-reel coloured sound travelogue of Clipper trips.

Assigned to take shots for the picture are Mr. Curtis Nagel and Mr. Palmer Miller.

It is understood that an entire reel will be devoted to "shots" of Hong Kong and Macao, which will include scenes of busy thoroughfares, the harbour and scenes of the aerodrome at Kai Tak.

Both Mr. Nagel and Mr. Miller arrived in the Colony recently and have already started work.

NEWS ABOUT THE SERVICES

ROYAL NAVY

RETURN OF THE CAPETOWN

The cruiser Capetown, Captain C. Coppinger, D.S.C., arrived in Plymouth Sound on June 9 on her return from the China Station.

Her two-year commission in the Far East, to which she will return after recommissioning in July, has been particularly eventful.

Last October she was unable to come down the Yangtze after spending the summer at Hankow because of the river being blocked against the Japanese, and most of her crew made the journey to Hong Kong by train, during which they were bombed by aircraft. The ship made the passage down river after the fall of Nanking.

On March 5 salvage parties from the Capetown were able to rescue the crew of the French steamship Yolande, which grounded on the Shantung promontory and was broken up.

TRIBAL CLASS DESTROYERS

H.M.S. Cossack, second of the new Tribal class destroyers, will be commissioned by Captain D. de Pass at the Vickers-Armstrongs yard, Walker-on-Tyne, for passage to Portsmouth. She will complete to full crew and will carry out trials between June 27 and July 2 afterwards proceeding to Portland. She is expected to leave for Malta on July 8.

The next two ships of the class, the largest and most heavily armed destroyers yet built for the Navy, will probably be on view to the public during Navy Week (July 30-August 6), the Mohawk at Portsmouth and the Zulu at Devonport.

TARGET SERVICE

The new fleet tug Bandit, completed by Fleming and Ferguson, Limited, Paisley, last month, has been commissioned with a temporary crew under the command of Lieutenant R. H. Johnson, at Chatham, and will leave for Portland. Here the crew of the St. Cyrus will transfer to her and that ship in the Fleet Target Service. The temporary crew of the Bandit will steam the St. Cyrus to Portsmouth about June 18, where she is to become a tender to the Signal School.

COMING FLAG CHANGES

The appointment of Rear-Admiral Ralph Lenthall, C.B., as Rear-Admiral 1st Battle Squadron, Mediterranean, in succession to Vice-Admiral Thomas H. Binney, C.B., D.S.O., is to date from June 14, on which date his flag was hoisted in H.M.S. President, R.N. V. R. drillship at Blackfriars, and struck at sunset. He will then be regarded as on leave of absence until he arrives at Malta on July 4 to take up his appointment.

The appointment of Rear-Admiral Geoffrey Layton, C.B., D.S.O., to succeed Vice-Admiral Andrew B. Cunningham, C.B., D.S.O., as Rear-Admiral Commanding Battle-Cruiser Squadron is to date from July 23. His flag will likewise be hoisted in the President and struck at sunset.

VISIT TO OSLO

The aircraft-carrier Courageous, flagship of Rear-Admiral G. C. C. Royle, C.B., C.M.G., with her attendant destroyer the Wren, were recently at Oslo. The ships then left for Portland, where they will be among those to be inspected by the King on June 21 and 22.

THE ARMY

TRAINING OF STAFF OFFICERS

New System in India

The following changes in the training in India of Army staff officers will be introduced with effect from the course beginning in January next:—

The course at the Staff College, Quetta, will be reduced to one year, and that college, like Camberley, will become a junior wing of the Staff College.

Officers at present undergoing their first year's instruction at Quetta will become the first one-year course and will graduate from that college in December 1938.

The annual admissions to Quetta will be increased from a total of 33 officers to 56, of whom 16 will be British Service officers of the various arms serving on the Indian establishment and 30 will be Indian Army officers of the combatant arms of the Service.

Of the Indian Army vacancies, 15 will be filled by competition and 15 by nomination from among officers who qualify at the Staff College entrance examination.

Officers of the Indian Army will not attend the junior wing course at Camberley.

The scheme entails a reduction in the age at which candidates

KIPLING'S SEA EPIC

"Captains Courageous," Rudyard Kipling's famed tale of the heroic Gloucester fishermen and the boy whom they regenerated through ideals of courage and humanity, comes to the Majestic screen today, in a spectacular, picturesque and compelling version by the company who gave the screen that earlier triumph of the sea, "Mutiny on the Bounty."

As for the cast—it is as perfect as a cast can be. In a portrayal surpassing even his acclaimed role in "David Copperfield," the brilliant child star, Freddie Bartholomew, brings to life the spoiled hero of "Captains Courageous," making the boy a creature of warmth, sympathy and understanding.

Equally effective is the outstanding work of Spencer Tracy as the Portuguese fisherman, Manuel, and Lionel Barrymore in a picturesque role as the ship's captain.

LLOYD NOLAN GOES TO PRISON

Just about the busiest player at Paramount these days, Lloyd Nolan, having finished work on "Crime Gives Orders," has stepped straight into a new production, "Prison Farm."

This is to be a "big house" picture with a difference, as the title suggests. Almost for the first time on the screen you'll see male and female prisoners together.

Nolan is playing one of those convicts with a heart of gold, J. Carroll Nash is the inevitable brutal warden. An interesting name among the supporting cast is that of Anna Q. Nilsson, the silent star who is now making a come-back as a character actress.

DIANA CHURCHILL

One of the most active young actresses in this country at present is Diana Churchill. You can date her success back to "The Dominant Sex," the first film in which she was able to reveal on the screen the qualities which have made her such a promising player on the stage. Since then she's appeared in quite a number of pictures, including "Sensation," "School for Husbands" and "The Housemaster." And she has just finished "Jane Steps Out," the most recent of the succession of films she has made at Elstree. Miss Churchill has a lack of affection which makes British filmgoers like her instantly. She also possesses a sense of humour and a capacity for showing deep feeling whenever necessary.

Ruby Keeler Will Star In Mother Carey's Chickens

RUBY KEELER signed a contract with Radio nearly a year ago. Idea was she'd be a useful partner for Astaire if Fred and Ginger finally split, writes a film correspondent. Seemed sound too. Ruby can match Fred's dancing weight besides being the right size and shape and having a suitable sort of quiet quaint charm.

Well Ruby hasn't made a picture yet for Radio. But she's about to, and she will step into Ginger's shoes, but not the dancing shoes and not with Fred.

In fact she'll star in "Mother Carey's Chickens." They must have got her properly confused with Ginger. That was the one planned as Ginger's dramatic getaway.

Ruby's a nice little thing but her dancing's her strong suit. Maybe she'll do a barn dance.

Mariene Dietrich passed through London recently "as a mother and not as an actress." The actress not being present she didn't tell us whether the new reports of her film plans are true.

If they are, she left signatures in Hollywood with Twentieth Century-Fox and Columbia. Zanuck would like to put her with Colman in "The Rains Came."

Columbia want her to go to work as soon as Frank Capra finishes "You Can't Take It With You." Possibly she'll play George Sand in his Chaplin film.

Well Capra may be able to bring her alive again.

Deanna Durbin is to bring the original Cinderella to the screen, "lass" slipper and all. Seems that a certain Phil Oman has written a musical score on a Cinderella theme which convinced Universal it would be a good idea.

Now they'll spend a million dollars on it. It'll be in colour, inevitably. And Messrs. Pasternak and Koster, Deanna's producer and director, fairly godfathers will handle it.

Probably puts paid to a discussion that's been raging at Universal over Deanna's next vehicle, "That Certain Age." To let Deanna elope or to keep her virginity was the question.

Three writers were each writing the script his own way. Now she'll probably be kept under age till after Cinderella.

Robert Taylor must be having a strenuous time getting into shape for all these he-man roles. He's being coached for his part of the killer in "Give and Take" by Max Baer, once an M-G-M star himself.

Just time to get his wind, then Taylor becomes a Technicoloured hockey player in "Hands Across the Border."

Deals with fifteen years of rivalry between the teams of West Point, America's cadet school where Nelson Eddy and Dick Powell go, and the Royal Military College of Ontario, Canada.

Last year there was a hockey story called "The Great Canadian" slated for Clark Gable. Just general post in M-G-M's sports department.

Errol Flynn is the latest rebel at Warners. Went off on his boat to the Bahamas. Studio couldn't contact him to call him back for "Because of a Man," the part with the Lane Sisters, formerly called "Sister Act."

Open warfare was avoided by Flynn's radiogram saying he was sick and couldn't get back.

As it was, they gave Flynn his head and promoted unknown Jeffrey Lynn from second lead to first. So Flynn's truancy becomes Lynn's break.

A London Film Production

Erin Drew is the young ex-waitress who until a few weeks ago was Terry Ray, student in Paramount's school for stars.

Director Wesley Ruggles gave her the new name and the lead in "Sing, You Sinners," with Bing Crosby and Fred MacMurray. Now she has been chosen to be Ronald Colman's leading lady in "If I Were King."

Not long ago Frank Lloyd said that the girl who played this part must be a combination of Myrna Loy, Madeleine Carroll and Merle Oberon, which gives Erin Drew something to live up to.

Until "Sing, You Sinners," she had only played bits in such pictures as "College Holiday," "Hotel Haywire" and "Rhythm on the Range."

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

WAR SITUATION REVIEWED BY GEN. CHEN CHENG

Severe Fighting Progresses
In Tsienshan Outskirts

FLOOD HOLDS UP JAPANESE
OPERATIONS IN HONAN

Hankow, June 22: Severe fighting continues to rage in the outskirts of Tsienshan, in southwest Anhwei, where a division of Japanese troops is attempting to dislodge the Chinese and drive into Hupeh, according to General Chen Cheng, new Chairman of the Hupeh Provincial Government and former director of the Political Division of the Military Affairs Commission.

The Chinese counter-attack on Shucheng, about 100 miles north of Anking, General Chen said, is proceeding favourably. The main bulk of the Chinese troops has reached the outskirts of the city, whilst another column is advancing north of the city, thereby cutting the retreat of the Japanese beleaguered in the city.

Japanese warships in the Yangtze River have been shelling the Chinese positions on both the north and south banks and Japanese warships have bombed Matang on the Kiangsi-Anhui border during the last few days, but damage is understood to be slight, General Chen stated.

Over 1,000 Japanese troops which landed at Tikang, above Wuhu, on June 18 are surrounded by the Chinese, whilst the Japanese remnants at other points on the south bank of the Yangtze have been successfully "mopped up."

FLOOD HALTS OPERATIONS

The flood has halted operations in east Honan. The main bulk of the Doihara Division is massed at Kaifeng and Chungmow, whilst the rest, stationed at Kweiwei, Liuho and Lipatsi, on the Lunghai Railway, have sustained heavy casualties as a result of Chinese guerrilla activities.

The Japanese trapped at Wushih, 45 kilometres southwest of Kaifeng, are attempting to retire to Chuhsienchen, 25 kilometres north of General Chen revealed.

A detachment of the Isogai Division which recently captured Lu-yi, on the Anhwei-Honan border, has advanced to Taikang, 45 kilometres northwest, but the main body is being held up by the Chinese at Hwaiyang, about 40 kilometres west of Lu-yi.

POISON GAS CHARGE

According to General Chen, the Japanese at Pienkwan, in north Shansi, and at Howma, Kuwo, Sinkiang and Yuncheng, in south Shansi, have sustained heavy losses from Chinese enveloping attacks.

In an attempt to relieve their beleaguered comrades 20,000 Japanese reinforcements are arriving at Taiyuan by the Chengtai Railway between 4,000 and 5,000 at Linfen, between 3,000 and 4,000 at Fengyang and 1,000 at Lishih.

General Chen charged the Japanese at Chiaokow, near Chungyang in west Shansi, with using poison gas during an encounter on June 13. Hard-pressed by the Chinese and after suffering about 150 casualties, the Japanese became desperate and resorted to the use of poison gas. Over 30 Chinese soldiers were poisoned. (Central News).

British Plan For Spain Approved

London, June 22

The Non-Intervention Sub-Committee sat for two hours yesterday and made excellent progress on all points discussed.

The Soviet delegate stated that the Soviet Government had carefully examined the new proposal regarding sea control, suggested by Lord Plymouth, and while it did not consider the proposal fully satisfactory it was prepared to adopt it in a spirit of compromise and as a step toward the Soviet point of view.

HOPES INCREASED

Hopes for the resumption of the Franco-Italian talks are increased by the progress made at yesterday's meeting.

It is officially stated that the sub-Committee has unanimously approved of the British plan, including provisions for the restoration and strengthening of land and sea control and for the establishment of observers at certain Spanish ports.

The full Non-Intervention Committee will now be apprised of the scheme and will meet shortly to approve of it. The scheme will then be presented to the two parties in Spain. (Reuter).

BOMBING INQUIRY

London, June 22.

It is learned from official sources that the Spanish Government is ready to collaborate with the International Commission, consisting of members from Great Britain, Sweden and Norway, which the British Government proposes shall be established to inquire into aerial bombings of Spain. (Reuter).

DE VALERA VICTORY

Dublin, June 22.

The De Valera Government has secured an absolute majority over all other parties in the elections.

Final state of the parties in the elections is as follows:

	Old Dail	New Dail
Fianna Fail	69	77
Labour	48	45
Protestant	13	9
Independent	8	7

(Reuter).

LEADERS CONFER ON CHINA FLOOD

Hankow, June 22.

The Yellow River floods were discussed last night at an informal conference of Government leaders, including Dr. H. H. Kung, the Finance Minister.

It was decided to rush relief for the flood refugees and also to hasten work on the repair of the dykes.

The Chinese Government has decided to float $100,000,000 worth of "Humanity Bonds" for the relief of war refugees. Only $30,000,000 worth of bonds will be issued at present. (Reuter).

CAPITAL LEVY IN HUNGARY

Budapest, June 22.

A capital tax ranging from 5 to 20 per cent. will be levied on all private fortunes or assets amounting to over 50,000 pengos, according to a new enactment promulgated yesterday. (Transocean).

BRITAIN WANTS TO SEE PEACE IN CHINA

London, June 22.

In a written statement read in the House of Commons yesterday, the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Mr. R. A. Butler, declared that England would be glad to do everything in her power, alone or in collaboration with other powers, to bring about an armistice in China as a forerunner to peace.

He pointed out, however, that there are no grounds for believing that Japan would accept any foreign proposal which included the withdrawal of the Japanese troops as a basis for negotiations.

The recent statement of the Japanese Foreign Minister is recalled, in which he doubted the possibility of any foreign power being able to intervene between Japan and China. (Transocean).

France Firm On Hainan Question

Paris, June 22.

The French Government intends to stand firm on the question of Hainan Island, according to well-informed quarters.

Japanese occupation of the island, which faces French colonial interests in Indo-China, would be considered harmful to French interests, guaranteed by the Franco-Japanese Treaty of 1907.

When the Japanese Ambassador saw M. Georges Bonnet, French Foreign Minister, on Monday, he declared that General Ugaki's recent statement regarding foreign powers supporting China did not specially refer to France. (Reuter).

GERMAN PLANE LANDS IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Berlin, June 22.

In connection with the landing of a German aeroplane in Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, on Monday, the following statement has been issued by a German news agency:

Yesterday afternoon an air force flying pupil who was making a cross-country flight in a one-seater to exercise the plane, unarmed and without radio, lost his bearings. After flying over the frontier he landed safely at the Pilsen airport, apparently in the belief that he was over a German airport. (Transocean).

ARABS CLASH WITH POLICE

Jerusalem, June 22.

The most serious clash during the recent weeks between Arabs and British police officials occurred on the northern frontier of Palestine yesterday, when a group of Arab irregulars endeavoured to destroy the barbed wire entanglements which had been erected along the frontier.

Upon being surprised by British police, assisted by Jewish auxiliary police, the Arabs opened fire and in the ensuing skirmish two Arabs were killed, several wounded and two Jewish police officers severely wounded. (Transocean).

STORMY OPIUM CONFERENCE

Delegates Of China
And Japan Again
Cross Swords

Geneva, June 22.

Each instance of illicit opium traffic given in the statement by the U.S. representative at the League of Nations Advisory Committee's meeting on June 13 was contested by the Japanese representative, Mr. Aman, at yesterday's meeting.

Mr. Aman said that the North China Provisional Government had been authorised to import 428 chests of opium, which was in conformity with the authorities' permit.

Japan strongly protested against the charge that she was responsible for alleged illicit opium transactions.

The Chinese delegate, Mr. Victor Hoo, expressed surprise at the quantities of opium North China was importing, pointing out that when North China was under the control of the Central Government such quantities were not imported.

Mr. Aman replied that as China did not exercise power over certain regions, the de facto authority might import the opium.

Mr. Hoo retorted that China controlled more of its provinces than Japan her armies.

The President intervened at this point and closed the discussion. (Reuter).

King Watches Home Fleet Exercises

London, June 22.

His Majesty the King, on board the flagship Nelson, yesterday watched a spectacular demonstration by the Home Fleet in action during all-day manoeuvres over a battle area of 300 square miles in the English Channel.

The exercises included a torpedo attack by 18 destroyers on H.M.S. Nelson and H.M.S. Rodney, two hits being registered on each ship.

The Fleet was also subjected to a mass air attack by 18 torpedo bombers.

A belt of fog appeared during the manoeuvres and a number of exercises had to be abandoned, including the firing of 15-in. guns on wireless controlled targets from the battleship Royal Oak. (Reuter).

SEARCHING QUESTIONS BY DEFENCE COUNSEL FEATURES SESSIONS TRIAL

HUMPHREY'S CROSS-EXAMINATION

This occasion that you spoke about when Dickinson followed you and Dwyer into the boys' locker flat—that was the only occasion on which he did so?—Yes.

Were you on the same terms with Dickinson as you were with Dwyer?—Yes.

This incident took place at Singapore Harbour?—Yes.

Was the ship at a buoy?—No, it was alongside a jetty.

About what time would you place the incident?—About midnight.

What date?—It was a Sunday night, I think, but I can't remember the date.

It was very warm in Singapore, was it not?—Yes.

Did you have any bed-clothes?—No, not covering me, I was lying on top of them.

Did you notice what Dwyer was wearing?—He was in tropical singlet and shorts.

Did he have any bed-clothes?—No.

What time did you go to sleep?—I turned in at about nine o'clock and went to sleep.

DID NOT SEE DWYER

Referring to the party which had gone ashore and returned by the last boat at 11 o'clock, Mr. D'Almada asked: Did Dwyer get back with that party?—Yes.

Did he come alone?—I can't say.

Then, you don't know when Dwyer came back? You assumed he came back, you didn't see him?—No.

Were you sharing No. 12 Mess with anyone?—No.

Was anyone else sleeping on No. 14?—No.

I think there was an Able Seaman sleeping on a stool on No. 12?—The answer was not heard.

It was immediately on being awakened that you saw this incident?—Yes.

Witness had previously stated that he remained awake for about half an hour after the people had returned from the shore and now counsel asked him: You remained awake for about half an hour after the people had come back from the shore and it was after this half hour had elapsed that you saw the incident?—Yes.

It was not, then, what you said in answer to my friend yesterday, yesterday what you said was this: Men returning from shore woke me and I saw Dickinson kneeling beside Dwyer.

According to you, you saw everything very clearly, did you not?—Yes.

You took it all in at one glance or you watched?—I watched.

You shouted and immediately after your shout Dickinson ran away?—Yes.

You saw everything with the aid of that police light?—Yes.

It was bright enough for everyone else to see also?—Yes.

What did you shout?—I can't say.

I thought you were sufficiently interested in this affair. Can't you think what you said?—No.

You made a noise and Dwyer ran away?—Yes.

You saw, as you said yesterday, Dickinson leaning on No. 14 mess-table?—Yes.

He was on the far side of the table?—Yes.

He had his hand under Dwyer's bed-clothes?—Yes.

You said a little while ago that Dwyer was not using any bed-clothes. They were on the table and he was sleeping on them.

Your suggestion now is that Dwyer was sleeping on some bed-clothes?—Yes.

If that was so why should Dickinson put his hand under the bed-clothes to get at Dwyer?—He just put his hand under.

You remember saying this: 'I shouted and struck two or three matches.' What was your object in striking a match. Dickinson had gone, hadn't he?—Because I saw Dickinson crawl from 14 to under 16 mess-table and then run away.

A LIGHTED MATCH

How on earth was it possible for a match to light a space three yards away from you?—By leaning over.

You expected that match to light across underneath 14 mess-table and beyond it?—Yes.

You made no mention at the Board of Enquiry or at the Police Court of Dickinson crawling under the table?—No.

You said this at the Police Court, did you not: 'The boys' locker flat is not frequented at night except for people returning from shore?—Yes.

According to your story Dwyer came over to your mess-table and invited you to go to the boys' locker flat. What made you go?—Just an impulse.

Ever been there before?—No.

When you got there you saw Dwyer had no clothes on?—Yes.

Was it just after you got there that Dickinson got there?—Yes.

What did you have on then?—I was fully dressed.

Dickinson was naked?—Yes.

Referring to the Board of Enquiry aboard the 'Dorsetshire,' counsel asked: You were asked a number of questions and to each you gave an answer?—Yes.

One question you declined to answer?—Yes.

Every answer was taken down as you gave it?—Yes.

So you have no reason to doubt that this (holding up a sheet of paper) is a copy of notes of what took place at the enquiry?—No.

A BIG DIFFERENCE

I would like to bring your attention to one thing you said at the Police Court: 'I followed Dwyer to the boys' locker flat. Dwyer was two or three minutes ahead of me.' (Witness had said in examination-in-chief that Dwyer got into the flat two or three seconds ahead of him). Which is correct, two or three minutes or two or three seconds?—It couldn't have been more than two or three seconds.

So you were wrong in the Police Court when you placed it at two or three minutes?—Yes.

This is a big difference, of course, 60 times more than what you now put it at. You say now seconds?—Yes.

About how many seconds after you got there did Dickinson get there?—About two minutes.

At the police court you said it was two or three seconds after you got there that Dickinson came in. You have changed minutes in one case into seconds and now you have changed seconds into minutes. It is hard to judge.

It is hard to judge, but you are here to give evidence on a matter of the utmost importance and you must give your judgment much more accurately. I am going to suggest to you later that the whole of your evidence is entirely false.

Well, which is correct?—I can't say. It seemed like two or three seconds.

SQUARE EVIDENCE

At the Board of Enquiry the interval you, placed between your arrival in the locker flat and Dickinson's arrival was about five minutes.—He was behind the other locker.

You know that? How did you know?—He told me.

You never said a word of that before. I suggest you are mentioning it now to try and square your evidence.

You remember saying here that Dickinson found Dwyer naked. But previously you said that when Dickinson came into the flat Dwyer had a singlet on. Again you have made a mistake. Again you have contradicted yourself.

In reply to another question, witness said he knew nothing about the shooting till two or three days after the incident.

Mr. D'Almada: The reason why you did not know anything about it was because you were in the cells?—Yes.

Where, Sydney?—Yes.

The fact of the matter remains that at the Inquiry you said that when Dickinson arrived Dwyer had a seat on and now you say he was naked?—He was naked when I went there.

You also said he was naked when Dickinson arrived. He must have been naked.

CONTRADICTIONS

You can't reconcile these statements, can you? No, you can't.

You have given evidence three times and you have contradicted yourself in several very important respects. You have also mentioned things here which you had never mentioned before. You told the Court yesterday that you got a disease in Singapore. That was ashore, wasn't it?—Yes.

Dwyer took you over to his own locker and showed you the bullets?—Yes.

How did he show them?—By the case.

Not like this? (laying bullet flat in the palm)—No.

Hardly consistent with anyone taking you there deliberately to show you the ammunition, wasn't it?

In your examination-in-chief you said this: 'Going into Sydney Harbour Dwyer was working in the galley on the port side and Dickinson was in charge and there was an altercation between them.' I am putting it to you that that is quite untrue, that at the time Dwyer was, in fact, in the side-party and on the fore'sle.—No.

If Dwyer was in the side-party he would not be under Dickinson?—No.

NEVER SLEPT ON BENCH

I am putting it to you that the side-party was always on the fore'sle when the ship entered harbour. I am putting it to you that Dwyer never did sleep on the mess-table in Singapore, he slept on a bench. I am putting it to you that that table was used by other members of the crew?—No.

You disagree?—Yes.

Dickinson was not on that mess deck at all?—No.

He had no business there?—Only his locker was there.

This occasion you said you saw him on 14 mess-table, was that the first time you saw him that night?—Yes.

You did not see him come on board?—No.

I put it to you that the whole of your evidence in regard to this incident is entirely untrue?—No, it is quite true.

There was no such incident as you spoke of and there was no such incident as the one in which Dwyer showed you ammunition?—It is quite correct.

Mr. Whyatt (re-examining): 'It has been suggested that the whole of your evidence is entirely untrue. In particular your evidence that you saw Dwyer naked in the boys' locker flat.' Here Mr. Whyatt read out that part of witness' evidence in which he had testified to Dwyer coming up to him as he lay on his mess-table and running his hand up and down his stomach. 'That, and your finding Dwyer naked in the locker flat, were they true?—Yes, sir.

The Chief Justice: To the best of your knowledge was Dickinson popular?—Yes, sir.

IDLE THREATS

Able Seaman C. J. M. Smith testified that on one occasion, while the ship was in Singapore, Dwyer, who appeared upset, told him that Dickinson had given him a very hard time, and that he meant to get even with him. Asked how he was going to get even, Dwyer said as he was a member of the rifle team, he could easily get a round of ammunition, and that he was going to shoot Dickinson.

Cross-examined, witness said Dwyer was not normal when he spoke to him.

For that reason, you didn't take the threats seriously at all?—I took them to be idle threats.

Able Seaman E. J. Fisher said Dickinson was a very cool fellow and a good sportsman. He was also a very level headed fellow and took every day of his life in his stride. Of a perfectly normal temperament, he was not argumentative or anything like that. Dwyer, whom he had known for six months, had spoken to him about Dickinson, saying he was bearing down on him. Dwyer also said: 'I will get that b—' referring to Dickinson.

Mr. D'Almada: I think you also heard Dwyer say he would get another b—, Degans?—Yes.

Threats like that are very common in the lower deck?—Yes.

You hear them every day?—Yes.

Stoker D. Regan said that while he was in the New York Hotel in Sydney, Dwyer, who spoke as if he were sober, spoke to him of people whom he disliked, mentioning Dickinson and a few others. About Dickinson, Dwyer said he did not like him and that he intended to shoot him.

Mr. D'Almada: It was usual to talk of one's likes and dislikes on board ship and to hear threats being uttered?—Yes.

In fact the only reason why you remember this particular incident in connection with Dwyer was because some days afterwards Dickinson was shot?—Yes.

And Dwyer did say he disliked other people too?—Yes, but I don't remember him making any threats against these.

Re-examined, witness said he had heard a good many threats before but had never heard one about shooting.

Ordinary Seaman J. R. Howstan testified that Dickinson used to give Dwyer some nasty jobs about Christmas time last year. He said that accused and deceased did not like each other.

When they were at Sydney, Dwyer told him that he hated Dickinson as he had given him a lot of hard jobs and that he would shoot him from the booms. At that time, witness thought Dwyer would not do such a thing.

Able Seaman F. A. McKay testified that towards the end of April Dwyer asked him if it was possible to commit murder on H.M. Ship and get away with it. 'I did not,' said witness, 'pay any attention to it but passed a remark that if he wanted to get rid of anybody, just push him overboard as I did not want the trouble of sewing up bodies again.' Witness explained that there had been one or two natural deaths on the Dorsetshire and it was his job to assist the sailmaker in sewing up the bodies.

Dwyer also asked him if it was possible to get a gun in Sydney, and he replied that the authorities could trace the registration number. Dwyer appeared to be serious and was perfectly sober.

TABLES POPULAR BEDS

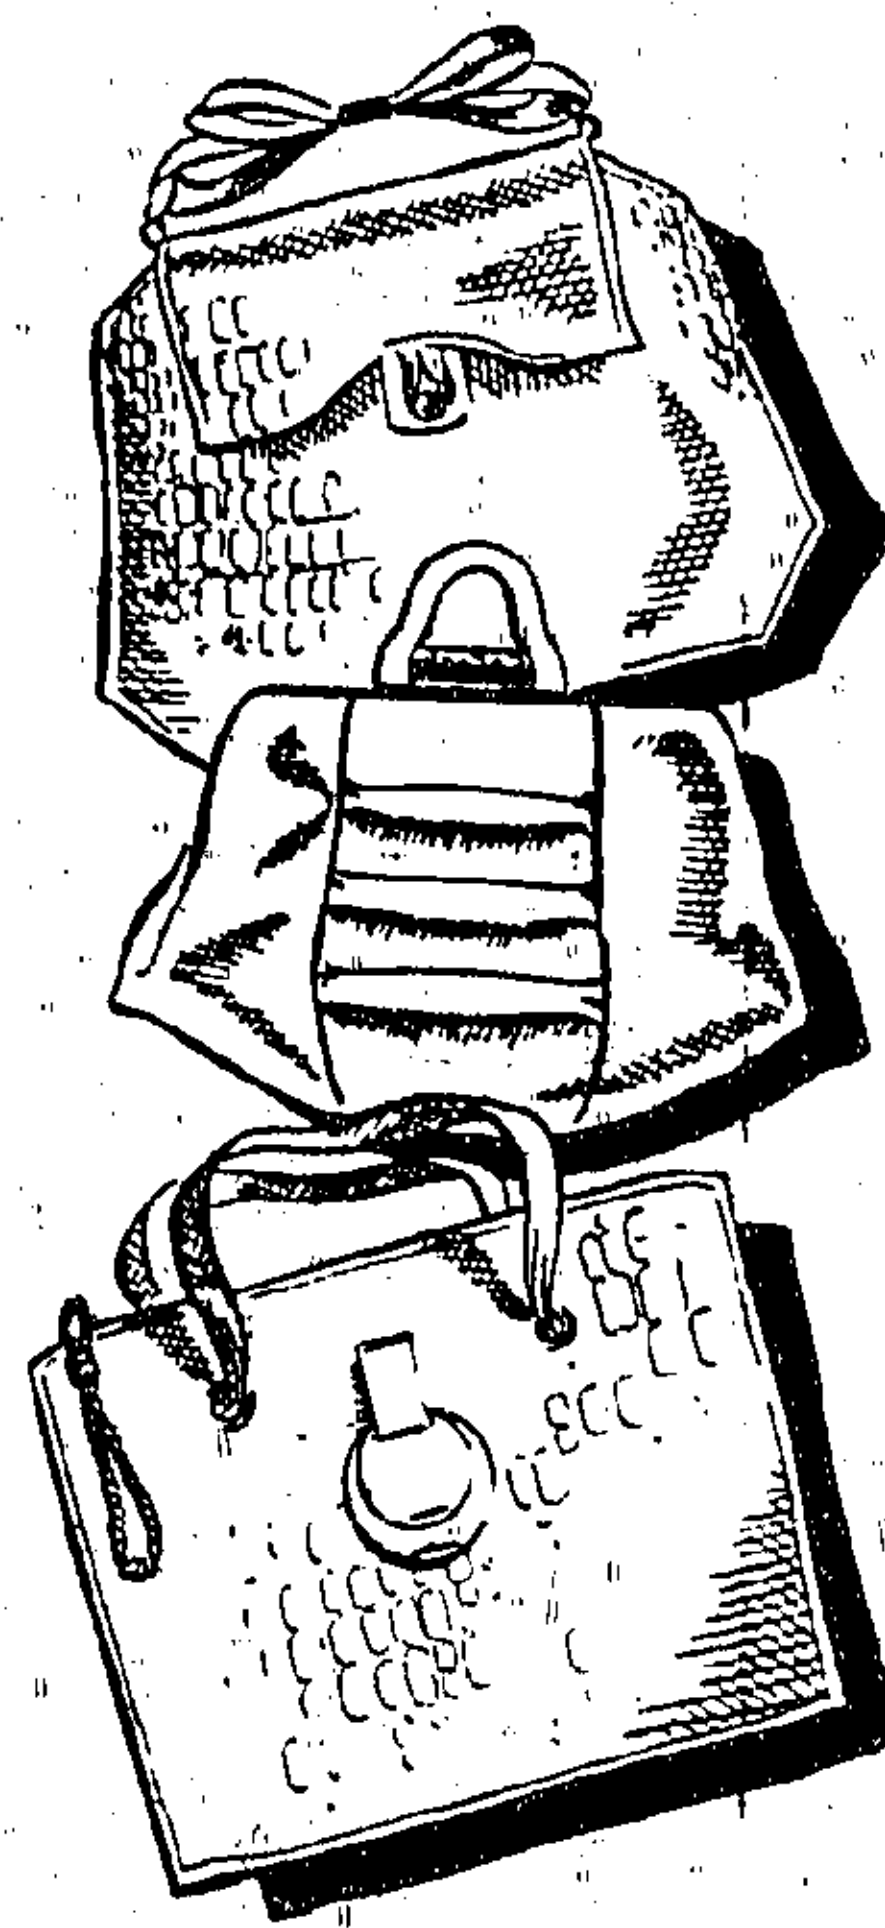

Mr. D'Almada: Tables are popular places to sleep on, particularly in warm weather?—Yes.

Who slept on 14 mess table in Singapore?—Different people on different nights.

Mostly?—A.B. Degans and A.B. Roberts most of the time.

Petty-Officer J. R. Snout said that about 12.40 on May 2 he was on his rounds and saw Dwyer abreast the starboard seaboard. Dickinson was on his watch, in charge of the seaboard. When he finished his rounds he saw Dickinson on the port doorway of the galley-flat, talking to A.B. Murphy. Dickinson went out of the door towards the upper deck.

Witness himself remained on the galley-flat and later he heard a report. After investigating, he went out through the port door and saw the body of Dickinson. Then, as the result of something White, the bosun's mate said to him, he went to the starboard

POWER STATION BOMBED

Szaw, June 22.

The electric power station here was bombed this morning by a lone Japanese seaplane. One boiler was hit, and the explosion shocked the neighbourhood within a radius of half a mile.

The plane then strafed the people in the streets, who ran in all directions for shelter.

The militia and protective guards still engaged the Japanese invaders in Nan Ao Island up to the early hours of this morning.—(International).

MASTERLY TACTICS

THE CHINESE as a race have never been regarded as militarily inclined, but that they are masters of the art of military strategy is now apparent not only to the Japanese, who have learned this by bitter experience, but also to competent observers abroad.

That this is so was borne out by the published statement yesterday of Col. G. R. V. Steward, who was G.S.O. (1) British troops in China from 1929 to 1936.

Col. Steward commended Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for the tactics he had adopted with such good results in holding up the invaders and drew attention to the efficiency of the Chinese guerrillas.

Another tribute to the methods of warfare adopted by the Chinese was paid by Mr. Winston Churchill, who urged the Chinese to make persistent use of guerrilla tactics and not to attach too much importance to fixed positions or large-scale encounters.

"The Chinese maxim should be to fight everywhere and be fought nowhere," declared this eminent statesman who shows a true appreciation of the situation in China.

THAT Generalissimo Chiang will go down in history as one of the finest military strategists ever known is undoubted.

Early in the war he showed that he realised the danger of engaging in pitched battles with the Japanese, who had the advantage of superior arms and equipment.

Putting up a strong resistance, but refusing to fight a decisive battle in the open with the invaders, the Generalissimo drew the Japanese further and further inland until their lines of communication were in hopeless confusion.

The scattered Japanese troops were placed at the mercy of roving bands of Chinese soldiers whom the Generalissimo had directed to "fade" into the surrounding countryside as the invaders advanced and wait their opportunity to strike.

For months past the Japanese have been faced with a problem they are unable to cope with—a military problem in which there is no front and no rear and it is impossible to point in any one direction and say with confidence "there is the foe we have to fight."

THERE has been no "fighting" anywhere near Shanghai for many months, yet Japanese soldiers are being killed and wounded in action daily and considerable numbers of injured men are brought into the city and taken on board Japanese transports to be carried home for hospital treatment.

Motor trucks loaded with heavily-banded men are frequently seen moving along the waterfront in the early morning—evidence that fighting is going on not very far away, although the Yangtze Valley has been officially "pacified" for several months, and the area from Shanghai to Nanking is under enemy "occupation."

Exasperated by the constant attacks of guerrilla forces, the Japanese have massacred thousands of civilians and burned their homes. Chinese regarded as guerrillas have been tortured and killed in unspeakable ways, including cutting off of ears, noses and eyeballs.

Reprisals of this character, however extensive and savage, will not suppress the guerrilla units who are operating all over the territory now under Japanese "occupation."

SOME of these roving bands are acting under direct military orders, others are moving freely as they feel inclined, intent upon cutting Japanese lines of communication, wiping out small groups.

£1,000,000 DAILY FOR ARMAMENTS

London, June 22.

Britain is spending about £1,000,000 daily for armaments, declared the Secretary of State for War, Mr. Leslie Hore-Bellisha, yesterday when he addressed a meeting of Liberals.

In spite of this huge expenditure, he pointed out that Great Britain has £30,000,000 more for social welfare work each year than formerly.—(Transocean).

JAPANESE AIRMEN'S DISGUISE

Peasants' Clothes To Avoid Capture

Canton, June 22.

A peasant's outfit is provided for each Japanese airman engaged in bombing cities in Kwangtung, so that in case the machine is shot down the aviator can disguise himself as a farmer.

Two of the Japanese pilots captured alive following their crash-landing on June 16 were found in the garbs of farmers. They removed and destroyed their flying kits, and thus the Chinese authorities have no means of finding out the name and rank of the airmen, most of whom claim to be petty or warrant officers.

County magistrates have been instructed to hunt for Japanese airmen in peasants' clothes if a Japanese machine crashes within his jurisdiction. If the fliers are taken alive, they must be well treated.—(International).

AMOY INSPECTION

Shanghai, June 22.

Lieut. Commander S. Kitano, Japanese air ace from the Mauda Airport, Tokyo, went to Amoy yesterday to inspect the naval air force in that port.

Thirty wounded Japanese fliers, who have been undergoing medical treatment in Nanking without much progress, arrived here yesterday en route to Japan for further treatment.—(International).

Central Asia Earthquake

MANY VILLAGES DESTROYED

Moscow, June 22.

A number of villages in Central Asia have been destroyed as the result of a severe earthquake which occurred a few minutes before midnight last night.

Loud subterranean rumblings which preceded the shock woke many inhabitants.

The centre of the disturbance was 80 miles southwest of Alma-Ata, capital of Kazakhstan.

A Government commission has been appointed to take charge of relief for the sufferers.—(Reuter).

raisons, seizing or destroying stores, and generally proving a serious menace to the invaders.

In hundreds of ways the invading forces are being effectively obstructed and kept guessing where the next swift and silent blow will come from.

Even fishermen along the South China coast have been organised into guerrilla units and have successfully repulsed Japanese naval parties coming ashore at various places.

It is in the central and northern provinces, however, where guerrilla warfare is most extensively carried on, and these mobile forces are being given all possible assistance by the peasants among whom they move, who know that these men are aiding very materially in making it most difficult for the invaders to enforce the authority they have arrogated themselves on the pretext of bringing peace and security to China.

With the Japanese troops harassed on all sides by the guerrillas and with Generalissimo Chiang ably directing the campaign, the people of China need have no fear as to the result of their gallant struggle against Japanese aggression.

Hello And Goodbye

—BY A. W. HYER—

M. V. Boissevain

HOW DO THESE Dutchmen do it?

This very modern ocean liner was the most comfortable place in Hong Kong, Wednesday a.m.

Customers, flowers, luggage, messenger boys, all being handled with the utmost of ease, no fuss or bustle, and only a half hour before sailing time.

The courtesy of the Boissevain's officers is to be complimented; their appearance, (and they are all very good-looking gentlemen) immaculate in white uniforms; and all quietly and efficiently going about their business.

This ship as you all know (and if you did not attend their perfect party on her maiden voyage, you missed something) is the last word in modern design and interior decoration. You feel you are visiting in a large and extremely well managed home. Hospitality is well expressed, spaciousness, service, everything for a passenger's complete comfort and relaxation plus amusement.

We take off our hats to the K. P. M. Line in their achievement and bouquets of compliments to the M. V. Boissevain's skipper, Captain David Blansteln.

Heading for more hot weather, but looking forward to an enjoyable trip to Shanghai was Mr. H. Rothe of Siemens and Company.

During the next month Mr. Rothe will be in the north but not on a holiday, it's all work. He will be returning to the Colony by the end of July. Lots of luck and be sure you come back.

Master Bates and Miss Bates journeying to Shanghai with their mother, Mrs. J. Bates were quite shy and wide-eyed. They desired to leave all the talking up to Mother, who unfortunately we could not locate. They did like the ship, the idea of the trip, which was expressed by simultaneous head nodding, but the cat he certainly did catch their tongues.

Mr. R. T. MacDonald and Mr. A. O. Fisher, two other passengers we could not locate. Next time this happens we will be prepared; we will borrow a bell and signboard arrangement, plus a small boy to do the paging act.

All of these people will have a perfect trip and find it only too short. You couldn't help it on the M. V. Boissevain, which sailed noon yesterday for Shanghai.

M. V. Victoria

SATURDAY, LAST, 3.30 p.m. found

Mr. and Mrs. T. Day of the Colony, quite hot, but very glad to be sailing on a vacation of six months. Via the Victoria they go to Genoa transshipping to another ocean liner which will take them to America.

Mrs. Day, attired in a becoming two-piece linen tailored suit of deep blue, a yellow silk blouse to contrast, and a huge natural straw cartwheel brimmed hat with a crown trim of blue matching her suit, was the receipt of good wishes from her friends.

"I do hate to leave Hong Kong but not this weather," was the expression of her sentiments. Mr. Day gave us a smile and reports he does not like newspapers, or the members of the Fourth Estate when active. But we will blame it on the weather and hope this vacation will be "all for the best for the two of you."

Mr. R. Turner and Mr. B. Black of the Furness Line were en route to Singapore via the M. V. Victoria.

There was a stag party in progress, it appeared. We became bashful at that point and did not intrude. Didn't even listen at the door. We know you will have a good trip, best of luck.

Holland American Line

SWINGING BACK TO our Dutch friends again, news of interest to all travellers should be the 38,000 ton Nieuw Amsterdam, the 21 knot flagship of the Holland American Line which has just made her debut.

The most modern ship of the luxury lines, the Nieuw Amsterdam has made news because of the radical manner of her construction. Neither labour disputes nor a government subsidy, mainstay of shipbuilding in most cases, were included during production. When work on the ship was to be curtailed because of a shortage of funds, Dutch labourers happily accepted a wage cut so that their country's greatest ship might be completed.

Departing from tradition again, the company assigned designers of the ship to several architects, each

PREMIER HORRIFIED AT BOMBING FROM THE AIR

But Offers No Protection For British Shipping

London, June 22.

Speaking on the horrors of air bombings in the Foreign Affairs Debate in the House of Commons last night, the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, said: "If it were not that China is so far away and the scenes taking place there so remote from our everyday consciousness, I think the sentiments of pity, of horror and of indignation which would be aroused by a full perception of these events might drive this people to courses which perhaps they have never yet contemplated."

Opening the debate for the Opposition, Mr. Noel Baker (Labour) accused the Government of failure to take action to protect British shipping, such as their predecessors had taken at the time of the Metropolitan Vickers case in Russia, owing to its sympathy with General Franco.

THREE PRINCIPLES

The Premier said that the Government was engaged upon a careful survey of the whole position with a view to formulating a practical scheme which could be put before other countries for acceptance or modification with the view to reaching some international law which he thought were applicable to aerial warfare as fully as they were to war on land or sea.

RULES DISREGARDED

Mr. Chamberlain observed that he was bound to say that in the opinion of the British Government, far too many incidents had occurred both in China and Spain where those general rules had been plainly disregarded.

NO HELP FOR SHIPPING

The Prime Minister then turned to the question of attacks on British ships in ports in Government Spain.

He repeated that, after careful and exhaustive examination of all possible methods of giving aid to British ships attacked in territorial waters, the Government had come to the conclusion that it was impossible to do so short of intervening in the war and cutting across the whole policy of Non-Intervention.—(British Wireless).

COLONY CHINESE TO OBSERVE WAR ANNIVERSARY

Chinese residents in Hong Kong are expected to join their compatriots in China to go vegetarian on July 7, the first anniversary of the Sino-Japanese hostilities.

An appeal to the Chinese here to this effect was contained in a letter to the local Kung Shung Daily News from a Chinese lady, Mrs. Soo Chen-lum, who also advocated fasting as an alternative. She suggested that the money thus saved should be contributed to the Chinese Government as pensions for the families of China's fallen heroes.—(Central News).

NEW HUPEH GOVERNMENT ORGANISED

Hankow, June 22.

The Hupeh Provincial Government was reorganised as a result of a decision at the regular meeting of the Executive Yuan yesterday.

Besides General Chen Cheng who had already been appointed Chairman succeeding General Ho Cheng-chun the following were named to form the new Provincial Government:

Mr. Yen Li-san (Commissioner of Civil Affairs), Mr. Yang Men-chung (Commissioner of Finance), Mr. Cheng Chia-chun (Commissioner of Reconstruction), Mr. Chen Chien-hsi (Commissioner of Education), Messrs. Chang Nankien, Shih Ting, Wei Ting-sheng and Chu Ko-shu (Members).—(Central News).

COLONY TRADE AFFECTED

The threatened invasion of South China by the Japanese has had an adverse effect on trade in Hong Kong, a Daily Press representative learned yesterday in an interview with a leading Chinese banker.

It was stated that quite a number of contracts had, at the last moment, been cancelled and this has entailed considerable trouble for the Hong Kong concerned.

Most of the contracts were for goods destined for Hankow, Canton and the interior generally, and the times most affected were paper and iron ware.

SIXTY DIVISIONS TO DEFEND HANKOW

Formidable Defence Lines To Be Held By New Armies

REORGANISED ARTILLERY AND MECHANISED UNITS

Hankow, June 22.

The breathing spell afforded to the Chinese armies by the Yellow River floods is being feverishly used by the Chinese to reorganise and take up new positions for the defence of Hankow from the south, in addition to the defence positions already taken against an attack along the Yangtse River.

The new Chinese position is said to be formed more or less in a straight line running diagonally across Honan Province from Kianghsien, 35 miles west of Chengchow on the Lunghai Railway, through Haichang, on the Chengchow-Hankow Railway, and south-easterly to Kueih, where south Honan joins Anhwei province.

Behind this front line, a second line has been formed, running diagonally through Honan through Singyang on the Chengchow-Hankow Railway.

Troops are already in position along this second line, prepared to act as a nucleus round which the armies retreating from the first line can take up positions should the occasion arise.

POWERFUL POSITIONS

Behind this second line is still another line of defence, running in a semi-circle from Wusheng, through Nanchang and across the southern bank of the Yangtse, where a major stand will be attempted. This third line will be stocked with fresh troops, supported by the newly organised artillery and mechanised units.

Guarding the flanks of these three main lines are two forces, one running northward along the Lunghai Railway between Kungshien and Tungkwang, and southward from Tungkwang along the Tapshan Mountains, and the other to the south, running southward from Jushih to Kuikang, where the biggest boom is placed across the Yangtse River.

SIXTY DIVISIONS

It is stated that the total number of troops employed in the defence of Hankow exceeds 60 divisions.

It is impossible to obtain any official figures of the newly organised Chinese artillery and mechanised units, but information from usually reliable sources indicates that the organisation of 30 artillery regiments has been completed.

The Chinese Army is also reported to have recently obtained 1,200 new tanks.

DR. QUO TAI-CHI HONoured BY OXFORD

London, June 22.

Welcoming the Chinese Ambassador, Dr. Quo Tai-chi, on the occasion of the conferment of the degree of Doctor of Civil Law, the public orator in the Crewean Oration at Oxford said that everyone must be asking himself what a University could do to express its admiration of the distinguished guest.

As a young man, the Ambassador had given himself to Chinese administration, then turned to foreign affairs and took part in the Peace Conference in Paris and the World Economic Conference in London. For the past six years he had been a well-known figure in London, first as Minister and then as Ambassador.

Besides this, he had represented China at Geneva and devoted his energies to the establishment of peace and justice among nations.

Now we saw the people of China in the misery of war, said the speaker, the issue of which was not yet clear. In return for the Ambassador's services and his constant kindly feeling towards England, Oxford gave him the best thanks it could—"with sleeves of Chinese silk."—(Reuter).

BLOMBERG RETURNS TO EUROPE

Expresses Admiration For Hitler

Marshal von Blomberg, former German War Minister, and his young bride were interviewed in Colombo several weeks ago on their way back to Europe after a honeymoon trip.

They posed for photographs, the Marshal wearing shorts and tennis shoes.

He intimated that he was giving up politics and retiring to private life.

He spoke enthusiastically of Herr Hitler, whom he described as "my great friend."

"Dwyer Said He Would Like To Shoot Dickinson"

Dwyer went into the recreation space. He had with him an oilskin and an overcoat. He put the overcoat on the table and gave the oilskin to one of the men and then went out again.

Mr. D'Almada: Every time you saw Dwyer that evening he looked quite normal?—Yes.

When he came in at 4.10 was he wearing the oilskin or the overcoat?—I can't say.

He was wearing one of them?—Yes.

"Dwyer was medium shot" Able Seaman Wood was the first man called in the afternoon. He said he was an expert shot, of the Bisley class. Dwyer was not a good shot as he himself said, but could be considered a medium rifle shot.

"In conversation," witness continued, "Dwyer said he didn't think much of Dickinson and would like to shoot him. I said neither did I but told him he had no need to worry as Dickinson was already under the observation of the Commander for some trouble that occurred in Weihaiwei in December. That was when Dickinson went up one evening and caused a disturbance on the mess deck. He was not very sober and an argument cropped up between him and two friends and they came to blows. Dickinson was apprehended by the Petty Officer of the day and one of the Regulation Staff.

"We had heard that we were going to Weihaiwei after the cruise. I mentioned the fact that Dickinson would have to mind his p's and q's as we were going to Weihaiwei which was known as Dickinson's rendezvous for a pretty good time. Dwyer mentioned that he liked to think that Dickinson would not get as far. I never heard anyone else say he would like to shoot Dickinson.

Mr. D'Almada: Did you mean by your last answer that you would not have been surprised if someone else had made that threat?—Yes.

You have heard it many times?—I don't go round finding things out and it so happens that I only heard it that one time.

"DICKINSON WAS DISLIKED" You suggest, in other words, that because of Dickinson's unpopularity, you would not be surprised to hear other people uttering such threats?—Quite.

You stated a little while ago that you yourself did not like Dickinson and I would be right in saying that many other people disliked him?—Yes.

I think you said something like this (to Dwyer): "You are not the only one. There are numerous others on the ship who don't like him."—Yes.

You repeated that at the inquiry when you gave evidence?—Yes.

Who was it who first started bringing up the subject of Dickinson?—I believe it was myself.

You spoke to Dwyer for about two hours on the evening of May 1 and during that time he was quite normal?—Yes.

When members of the rifle party go on a shoot they are served out with ammunition?—When the rifle team lands the ammunition accompanies them and on the range the boxes are opened and you help yourself.

So it would be the easiest thing in the world for a member of the rifle team to keep back some ammunition?—Quite.

No strict check is kept on the ammunition?—No.

I put it to you as a fact that now and again people are known to keep back a few rounds of ammunition?—Yes.

The Chief Justice: You personally know in this case?—Not in this ship. In other ships I have been in.

Mr. D'Almada: But the system in this ship is the same as in other ones, of course?—They have been.

Able Seaman Webster testified to an occasion, at about 10 p.m. on May 1, when Dwyer came up to him and whispered "Put your hand in my right hand pocket." "I took no notice of him," witness said. "He nudged my elbow and I glanced round at him. He took his hand out of his pocket and I saw what I took to be a piece of steel in his hand. I didn't think anything of this. It was round, similar to a silver pencil, and I saw about 1 inch of it."

Questioned by Mr. Whyatt, witness said: I thought the piece of steel was a pencil when I first saw it. I can't say now what it was."

He was not cross-examined.

Ordinary Seaman W. Hill, who said he had been promoted to A.B. since the incident stated that at about 12.30 or 12.45 on May 2 he saw Dwyer going out of the recreation space out of the galley flat into the starboard side of the ship on to the upper deck. He looked as if he was going into the fore'sle. Later, at about 3.45, he saw Dwyer in the recreation space and noticed he had an oilskin and an overcoat with him.

In reply to Mr. D'Almada witness said Dwyer was carrying the overcoat quite openly.

The Chief Justice: He was on port watch between 3 and 4. How could he go to the recreation space at 3.45?—Perhaps I misjudged the time.

Would a relief be likely to go up before time?—It might.

The Chief Justice: It would be very rare wouldn't it.

A Burns, another newly promoted Able Seaman, said on April 30 he had a conversation on the upper deck about the deserters the ship had left at Sydney. Dwyer was there and he switched the subject round to murder. He said: "Would there be a panic on this ship if a murder should be committed?"

"On May 2," witness went on, "I was on the middle watch, and from 12 to 1 I was starboard lookout. At 1 I was relieved by Able Seaman Saunders. I came down the port ladder into the galley flat. It was about 1.03 or 1.04 when I got into the galley flat. I noticed Dickinson lying on a cushion on the upper deck."

After describing the alarm witness said he saw Dwyer in the recreation space about four o'clock with an oilskin and an overcoat. Dwyer left the coat on a table. Someone took it up, apparently to use it as a pillow, but found it was wet and put it down again.

"The overcoat had buttons missing," witness continued. "Seven days later I had instructions to search the oilskin rooms, and I then remembered that Dwyer had left his oilskin and overcoat on the table on the morning of the murder. I found the overcoat in the recreation space."

MISSING OVERCOAT BUTTONS

Mr. D'Almada: You gave evidence at the Inquiry. You made no mention that the overcoat had buttons missing—I did.

You gave evidence on the third day of the Inquiry and you were recalled on the last day?—Yes.

On the third day you made no mention of the overcoat?—No.

On the last day you were asked four questions and you made four answers?—Yes.

Mr. D'Almada read out the questions and answers, in which there was no mention of the missing buttons, and then said: "So in fact you made no mention of the missing buttons?—No, but I mentioned it to the Inspector.

But not at the Inquiry? That is my point.—No.

It was not until after the Inquiry that you found the overcoat?—Yes.

Then it was that you found the button, or buttons were missing?—No.

Leading Seaman White gave evidence of being ordered to stand by the body of Dickinson. He said he stood by it for about five minutes and then, feeling sick he went to the starboard side of the ship to be sick. He saw Dwyer sitting on a bollard and it looked to witness as if he were retching. Dwyer gave him a sort of surprised look, a stare, not an ordinary look. Witness went back and told P.O. Smout.

Mr. D'Almada: When you reported to P.O. Smout he went over to Dwyer and came back and told you Dwyer was alright?—Yes.

The mess you saw on Dickinson was pretty rotten, wasn't it?—Yes.

It made you feel pretty rotten?—Yes.

It is not usual for a man to be feeling pretty sick on a calm night on the ship?—No.

Your own appearance might have accounted for Dickinson's surprised look?—It might have (after some hesitation).

To anyone who was ignorant of what had happened that night your own shaky appearance would have been curious, would it not?—Yes.

The hearing was adjourned at this stage and resumes this morning at 10 o'clock.

Soup Kitchen For Wanchai Planned

That no less than 4,200 persons had visited the Society's four branches during May, was revealed at the monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Hong Kong Society for the Protection of Children, held at the Registrar's Office at the Supreme Court on Monday.

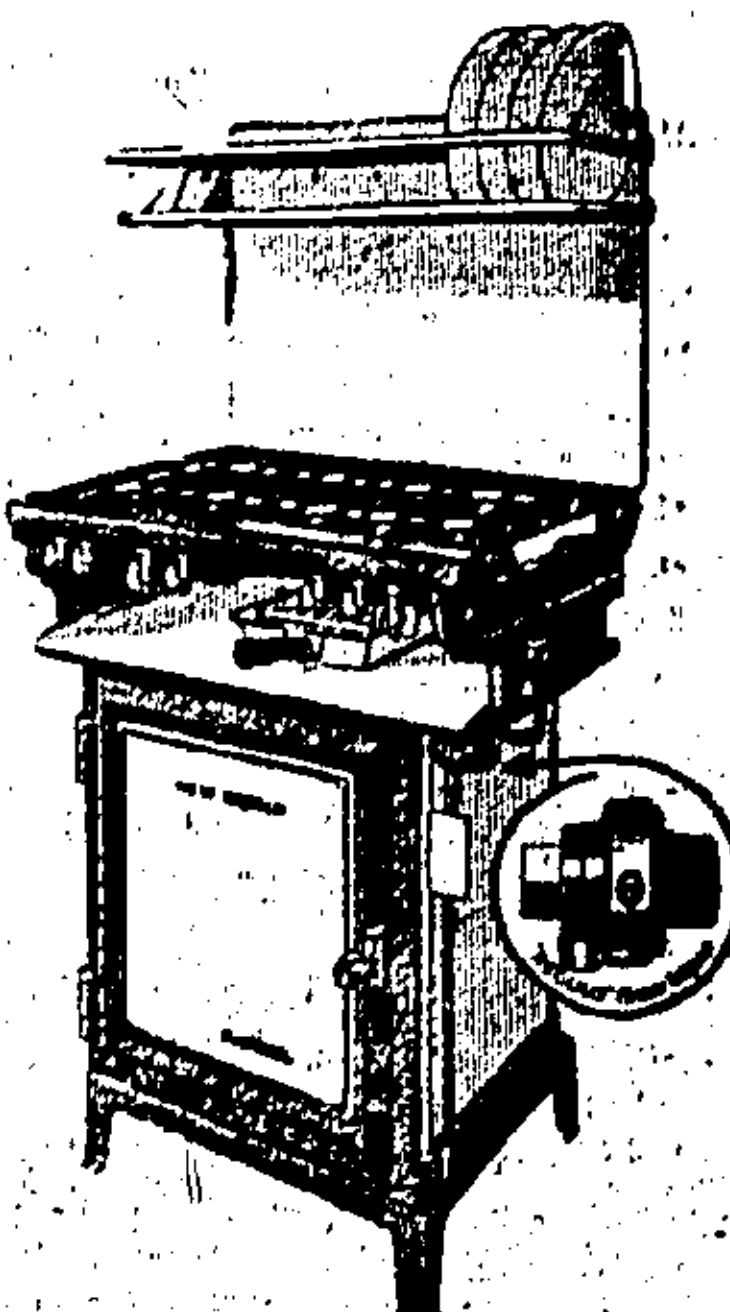

In addition the Case Report showed that the Society's inspectors had paid 255 visits to homes, and that 108 new cases had been assisted. The average income per head per month had sunk to the deplorably low level of $1.54.

The Finance Report indicated that a deficit of $8,000 had to be faced unless further public support is forthcoming quickly.

NEW PREMISES NEEDED
An appeal was made for help in securing new premises for the Wanchai centre, which is now inadequate to deal with the increased calls upon it. The Society urgently needs an additional room with cooking accommodation in order to inaugurate a soup kitchen for older children and mothers.

Ways and means of encouraging public support were discussed, and it is hoped that the financial assistance so urgently required will be forthcoming in order make it possible for the Society to continue its present work and, if possible, meet the increasing appeals received daily.

RECREIO AND CRAIGENGOWER
IN NEEDLE MATCHKowloon Team Nose Home By Four-Shot MarginCIVIL SERVICE SCORE THEIR FIRST POINT

By B. R. Swiller

The bowls match last Saturday between Recreio and Craigenower was a veritable battle of the giants. Though it is still early in the season to make prophecies, it is probable that the ultimate destination of the shield rests on the result of this match. Recreio, therefore, by virtue of their four shot win, are in a very favourable position. But bowls is such a funny game that it is quite on the cards that after all Craigenower or even the Kowloon Cricket Club, who are now third in the Table, may emerge victorious in the end. However, that remains to be seen.

Recreio have a lot for which to thank F.X.M. Silva as it was entirely he who carried them to victory with a fine win of 12 shots over Bradbury. But for his effort, it is conceivable that Recreio would have lost, as both R. F. Luz and H. A. Alves went down to R. Basa and U. M. Omar respectively. F. X. Silva and his men played very well indeed, J. E. Noronha again proving himself to be a very reliable lead.

However, it must have caused Silva some anxiety that on the 15th head, he conceded a four to his opponent when those four shots could ill be spared. But this was the result of a fine piece of work by Bradbury who, going down to bowl with Silva lying three shots, took the jack back some distance for a count of four in his favour.

Basa did well to beat R. F. Luz by 30 shots to 13. J. S. Landott, Basa's lead, had a rare tussle against L. F. Xavier, but the latter was slightly better. A Razack was rather weak.

THE FIRST WIN

The Civil Service C.C. scored their first point of the season when they tied with the Kowloon Bowling Green on their own green. Randle who has had rather a lean season secured his first victory at the expense of E. W. Lines whom he beat by 5 shots. Duncan beat Sheriff by 19 shots to 17, but he and his men had to fight every inch of the way against a stiff opposition to win eventually by 2 shots. Down by 14 shots to 1 on the 7th head, Duncan's four fought back to such good effect that on the 20th head he had not only tied the score at 17—all with Sheriff, but he might have won the game for the Bowling Green as they needed only 3 shots to win. Duncan, however, was only able to secure two shots on the last head to tie with the Civil Servants score of 55.

FINCHER'S FORM

The Kowloon Cricket Club have recorded yet another win to bring their total this season to five out of eight games played. On Saturday playing at home they secured a big win over the Kowloon Dock by 24 shots. E. C. Fincher who seems to have struck (literally) irresistible form this season, continued in winning vein with a fine victory of 21 shots over F. Cullen, who could only collect 10 shots against him.

A. E. Silstone, I see, has returned to the fold after his absence last week, presumably due to indisposition, and played a fine game as Fincher's lead. E. Kern also registered a win for the K.C.C. by beating J. McKelvie by 20 shots to 14. R. Craig, his No. 3, has also returned after last week's indisposition. J. Brown was the only Kowloon Dock skip to win. He beat J. Hyde by 3 shots.

As expected, the Police beat the Indians at home but they only won by five shots. W. Mair beat Arcull by 23 shots to 14. But it was, through no fault of Arcull's, that his rink went down as he was playing as well as Mair, if not better. Though Abbas, Arcull's No. 3, played quite well and sent down useful woods occasionally, Khan was not playing as well as usual, and Wahab was decidedly weak. On many occasions when his skip asked for short woods, peremptorily disregarding his skip's instruction, either put his woods in the ditch, or very near it.

MINUS POSE START

A. K. Minn made an inauspicious start as a skip. He went down to E. G. Post by 28 shots to 18. But considering the fact that his rink gave away two fives very early in the game, and yet only lost by two shots eventually, their recovery did them credit. S. O. Bux was the weakest man in the rink, probably because he found the Police green tricky and consequently (although it may sound contradictory) never "found the green."

W. E. Hollands, Post's No. 3, played extremely well and on a number of heads when the shots were against him turned the tables on Minn, with good draws of the "pound-on" shots.

M. Y. Adal beat A. E. Carey by 25 shots to 19, but credit for this victory must go to his front men, especially J. Hoosen his lead and A. R. Minn his No. 3. The latter, relieved of the responsibilities of skipping, played a great game and was always a menace to Carey. Down by 15—11 on the 15th head, Adal scored three successive fours and a two to lead by two shots on the 20th head. However, he lost a four to Carey on the last head. The loss of these four shots on the last head, in my opinion, was a tactical error on the part of Adal.

J. Fender playing lead to Carey, had his first wood right on the jack, but instead of playing safe and trying to get the second shot first, Adal asked his men to send down heavy woods in an attempt to shift the wood on the jack. They all failed to do this. Carey's men kept on piling up the shots. Adal himself could not improve the position and lost 4 shots on that head.

SECOND DIVISION

As the result of a big home win over the Civil Service C.C., the Kowloon Bowling Green are now ahead of Craigenower in the Second Division League Table. G. E. Thompson of the Bowling Green and his men played extremely well to beat R. R. Wood by 31 shots to 12 and W. S. Drake, another K.B.G. Skip, had the better of W. R. Hillier by 8 shots. S. Eccleshall was the only Civil Service skip to win his match but his victory of 7 shots was not sufficiently big to be of any use to his team.

MOSS BOWLS WELL

The Police second team, playing on their own green easily disposed of the Hong Kong Footballers' "A" team as they had 42 shots to spare at the end of the game. Credit for the Police's huge win goes to G. C. Moss and his men who played so well that it was all W. Gill could do to get one shot in the first 7 heads from his opponents. G. C. Moss played an extremely good game, drawing on both hands and driving with equal facility. The other two Police skips also did well, W. Glendinning beating J. Roger by 22 shots and F. E. Booker beating A. Brooksbank by 4 shots.

HAYNES BACK AGAIN

The Hong Kong Footballers' "B" team are doing much better than their club-mates as they are now third in the Table as the result of their victory over Recreio at King's Park. Their "A" team, however, together with the Civil Service C.C. bring up the rear in the League Table for the Second Division. F. Haynes, whose indisposition last week caused the Footballers' "B" team to lose a golden opportunity of beating the Kowloon Bowling Green, has recovered and

CHINA'S ARMIES OF AMAZONS

Nine Hundred In Kwangsi Provincial Divisions

Kweilin, June 22.
Nine hundred women now fill the rank and file of the Kwangsi Provincial Army, and several companies have volunteered for active service at the front.

The Amazons are also trained in first aid work and can serve as nurses in field hospitals if they are not required to take up position in the firing line.

General Pei Chung-hsi, the Kwangsi leader directing operations at the front, has commended the female soldiers for their patriotism and gallantry.

Kwangsi has sent 900,000 troops for active service. Another contingent of 480,000 will be shortly dispatched to Hankow for the protection of the city. About 1,000,000 reserves are undergoing military training.—(International).

HUNAN WOMEN

Changsha, June 22.
Unwilling to be outdone by their sisters in the neighbouring Kwangsi Province, women in Hunan, who belong to a province long renowned in China's history for its military spirit, are being mobilised for war service.

Under the governorship of General Chang Chih-tung, who commanded the Chinese troops in the first stage of the Shanghai War, women are given equal recognition as men in contributing their share to their nation. Attention is being particularly directed to training girl students and nurses, who will shoulder the momentous task of organising and drilling all women in Hunan between the ages of 15 and 35.

The training for these students and nurses, numbering 5,000 for the first period ending June 30, is being carried out under the auspices of the Provincial Mass Training Headquarters.—(Central News).

Million Dollar Fight

New York, June 22.

The sale of tickets and concessions for the Schmeling-Louis fight has totalled $1,000,000, this being the first time that the million dollar mark has been reached since the Dempsey-Tunney fight 11 years ago.

The betting is two to one in favour of Louis, who is nine years younger than Schmeling, but the former champions, Jess Willard, Jack Johnson and Jack Dempsey, prophesy a Schmeling victory.—(Transocean).

BEN FOORD GETS K.O. FROM PHILLIPS

Hard Right To Solar Plexus

London, June 22.

At Harringay last night, the British heavyweight championship eliminator fight over 15 rounds between Eddie Phillips of Great Britain and Ben Foord, of South Africa, resulted in the former knocking out the latter in the ninth round.

The ending was an unexpected one. A right-hander to the solar plexus paralysed Foord from the waist downwards. Foord, however, was in complete possession of his faculties and vainly attempted to rise.

Later, Foord claimed that he had been hit in the groin.—(Reuter).

C.B.C. GALA ON SATURDAY

Among the various comic events there will be a display of Figure of Formation, the first of its kind ever to be held in the Colony.

LAWN BOWLS NOTES

played so well on Saturday as to beat J. J. Basto by 26 shots to 10. As E. Tuck lost to B. Basto by one shot and J. Selby to F. X. Soares by two, it was entirely Haynes' fine effort that carried the Foot-ballers to victory.

MUNRO'S GOOD FORM

Though Craigenower were up on two rinks in their match against Talloo R.C. at Quarry Bay, they lost by 13 shots. D. Munro of Talloo and his men were in fine form and inflicted a severe drubbing on M. Medina, who only obtained 8 shots to the former's 63. It was only his win of 25 shots that enabled Talloo to win, as R. Keown was down to M. Souza by 9 shots and T. Stahlin was beaten by 3 shots by J. Cavanagh.

THIRD DIVISION

In the Third Division the Kowloon Football Club seem to be winning their matches with monotonous regularity, as they have yet another scalp to add to their belt. Last Saturday they beat Craigenower at home by 16 shots—a comparatively small margin for them. W. Field had a win of 12 shots over E. Zimmer. The former, incidentally, is still undefeated and has seven victories to his credit. J. Gibson also won for the K.F.C. beating A. E. Alves by 7 shots. T. Ferguson went down to S. Lillipier by 3 shots.

The Kowloon C.C. got home by the barest possible margin in their away match against the Hong Kong Football Club. For the losers, R. Trengrove played a fine game to beat H. Nish by 5 shots, but this win just failed to off-set by one shot the deficit of six incurred by the Footballers' other two skips.

RINKS CHAMPIONSHIP

Two matches were played in the Rinks Championship last Sunday on the Kowloon Dock green—both matches ending in a victory by one shot for the winners. While Arculli's win of 19 shots to 18 over A. J. Hall's came as no surprise, W. H. B. Musket's rink (of C. Moore, Y. Abbas, V. Atienza and Musket) upset all calculations by beating a very strong Recreation Club comprising L. F. Xavier, C. E. Marques, F. V. V. Ribeiro and H. A. Alves by 23—22. An extra head had to be played in this game to arrive at a decision as the score was 22—all on the 21st head. Bearing in mind the fact that Musket's four play in the Third Division, their win over the formidable Recreation Club is a fine achievement.

ANOTHER UPSET

Another match which was decided by one shot, was an Open Pairs game between J. Hoosen and A. R. Minu of the Indian R.C. and T. S. Landolt and B. W. Bradbury of the Craigenower C.C. played on Monday on the Police green. Though Landolt played extremely well and had the better of Hoosen most of the time, Bradbury was playing below form and was outplayed by Minu. With a four on the 18th head, Bradbury was leading Minu by 17 shots to 19. However, a two and a single on the next two heads, enabled Minu to take the lead again. Needing three to win, Bradbury could only score one on the last head—his last wood going slightly wide in an attempt to remove Minu's second shot.

The following are this Saturday's matches:—

FIRST DIVISION

Kowloon B.C.C. v. Craigenower.
Recreation v. Kowloon Cricket Club.
Civil Service C.C. v. Police R.C.
Kowloon Dock v. Indian R.C.

SECOND DIVISION

Craigenower v. Kowloon B.C.C.
Civil Service R.C. v. Recreation.
H.K.F.C. "A" v. H.K.F.C. "B."
Police R.C. v. Talloo R.C.

THIRD DIVISION

Kowloon T.R.C. v. Kowloon F.C.
Craigenower v. Kowloon C.C.
Recreation v. Yacht Club.
H.K.F.C. v. H.K. Electric.
